

The social committee met on Sunday, February 17, and sketched out the initial plans for 2019. Of course, any events for the year will be dependent on the proceeds we receive and/or self-pay. We already have several money-making ideas planned, as well as several events. The good news is that we have several new members on the committee who are enthusiastic and happy to help. Good!!!

We will be organizing an Earth Day clean-up and hope to have information available at that time regarding a plant sale and/or a bat house sale. At the May annual meeting we are planning a 50/50 raffle, as well as a silent auction. We will appreciate any and all endorsement by the board to inform and excite the residents to bring cash and check to the annual meeting. We were successful in having the annual garage sale date moved to Saturday, June 1, 9 to 4, as the May 18th date already had 2 big conflicting events. We are planning a bake sale on that date and will be asking residents to provide baked goodies. We will also have drinks available for sale. Lynda Nelson has been organizing the Game Nights at the clubhouse, and the next one is this Friday, March 1 (this has zero expenses involved). Of course, the below schedule is subject to change. We will open some of the events to Chippewill residents. Do we know the date of the annual meeting in May yet?
